Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Take Part. Get Set For Life.™

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

- It has become increasingly difficult to discern the libero's legality when playing the ball when he/she cannot be easily identified apart from the teammates due to multi-colored uniform jerseys.

- Requiring either the libero or the other team members to be in a solid-colored uniform jersey of contrasting color will assist the referees in identifying the libero and determining legal playing actions.

- There are several options as to the use of the solid-colored jersey by the individual team.
- The team may choose to have only the libero wear the jersey and thus purchase special jerseys.
- The team may choose to have one set of solid-colored uniforms opposite a second set of contrast.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

- Who must wear the solid-colored jersey?

- Libero, or
- Teammates with libero in a contrasting colored jersey.
- Both may wear solid-colored jersey, but libero must be in contrasting solid-colored jersey.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

- Either the libero and/or his/her teammates shall wear a solid-colored uniform jersey.
 - Required by NCAA – August 1, 2013
 - Required by USAV – September 1, 2014
 - Required by NFHS – July 1, 2016

- The solid-colored jersey requirements by rule are the same for all three organizations except for the mandated implementation dates.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

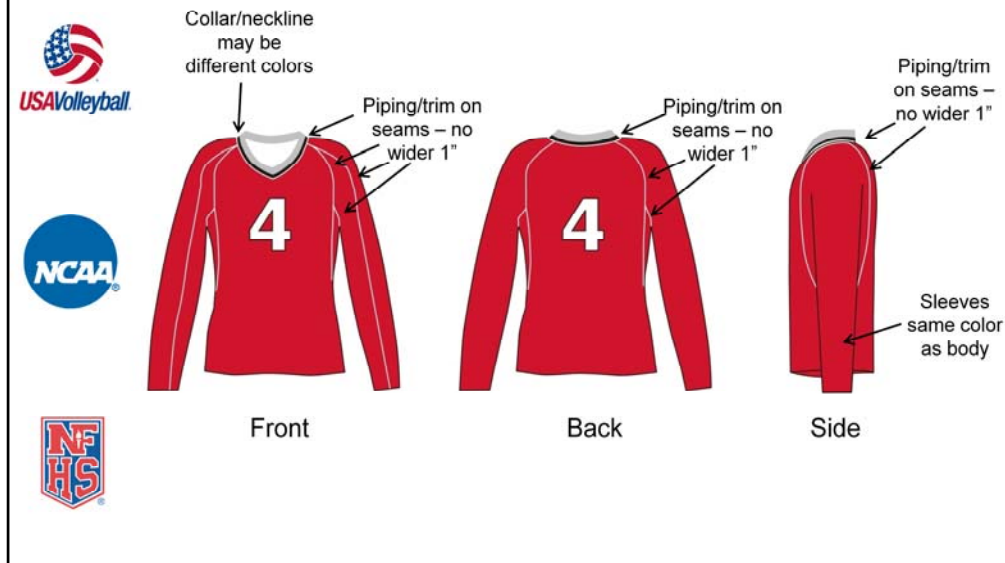

- Regarding the solid-colored jersey:

- a. The solid-colored uniform jersey shall clearly contrast from the predominant color(s) of the teammates' uniform jersey. Predominant color(s) is the color(s) appearing on approximately half of the uniform.
- b. Sleeves shall be the same color as the body of the uniform jersey.
- c. Piping/trim not exceeding 1 inch in total at its widest point may be placed along the seams and may be a different color(s) than the uniform jersey.
- d. Lettering and collars may be different color(s) than the uniform jersey.
- e. Numbers shall be a contrasting color to the uniform jersey and meet all other specifications of the respective rules organizations.

- The rule focuses up the solid-colored jersey being in contrast to the other jersey or jerseys.
- Sleeves are now to be same color as body.
- Piping/trim size and location are specified.
- Lettering and collars have flexibility of colors.
- Numbers must be in contrasting color to uniform jersey.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

- Here is an example of the basic rule.
- In addition, the jersey must be in contrasting color to other team jerseys.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Trim runs along the side seams

Trim is no
wider than 1
inch in total width

Collar/neckline may be any color

Body is a solid color

Legal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- This uniform is legal as the body is a solid color, trim is located along the seams and is no wider than 1 inch at its widest point.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Trim runs along the seams

Trim is no
wider than 1
inch in total
width

Trim may be more than 1
color

Collar/neckline
may be any color and more than 1 color

Body is solid color

Legal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- The trim or piping may consist of more than one color.
- However, the trim in total shall not be more than 1 inch in width at its widest point.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Trim is wider than 1 inch in total width

Illegal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- This jersey does not meet the requirements for the solid-colored jersey due to the trim.
- The trim in total, (red, white and orange) exceeds 1 inch in width.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Trim is located along seams

Trim is no
wider than 1
inch at widest point

Trim may be more than 1
color and may contain a design

Legal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- This jersey has trim with a design. This is legal providing it runs along the seams and is not wider than 1 inch.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

- This jersey is all white but constructed of two different materials.
- The various seams used to piece the jersey together have piping of a different color than the jersey, in this case black piping on a white jersey.
- Wherever there is a true seam, functions to join two pieces of material, piping/trim may be added.
- Darts, stitching to create a fitted style, are not considered seams and piping/trim could not be placed on this type of stitching.
- The integrity of a solid-colored jersey must be maintained. If there is excessive piping/trim the jersey may no longer be considered solid-colored.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Side panel is not trim and exceeds 1
inch

Illegal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- This jersey includes an insert rather than piping or trim.
- It is wider than one inch, thus rendering this jersey illegal for a solid-colored jersey.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Sleeves are same color as body of jersey

Horizontal piping/trim runs along a seam

Piping/trim is no wider than 1 inch

Legal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- The sleeves must be the same color as the body of the jersey, in this case black to black.
- The piping/trim can be located on any seam providing width requirement is not exceeded.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Collar may be multiple colors

Piping along seams for garment construction

Design is not along a seam

Design exceeds 1 inch in width

Illegal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- A collar of multiple colors may appear on the solid-colored jersey.
- Likewise, trim/piping may be placed along any seam that serves the actual function of joining two pieces of garment together.
- This jersey however is not legal due to the design on the shoulder not being placed on a seam and exceeding 1 inch in width.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Horizontal arc is legal IF it runs along a

or

Horizontal arc is illegal IF it is only a design across the chest with no seam

Collar – legal with multiple colors

Body and sleeves – legal as same color

Sublimation

- Sublimation may be used to create the piping/trim or design of the trim providing:
 - The piping/trim is placed along a seam.
 - The piping/trim is no wider than 1 inch at its widest point.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

School/team name, mascot and/or player name may be placed on jersey

Designs may not be placed on the solid-colored jersey

Illegal for Solid-Colored Jersey

- To preserve the integrity of a solid/colored jersey, designs, other than any that are included in legal trim, are not allowed.
- A team name, school name and/or mascot is permitted.
- A player's name is also permitted.
- Matters regarding placement of names and numbers should be addressed to appropriate rules organization (NCAA, NFHS, USAV).

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

May be placed on jersey:

- School name
- Team name
- Player name
- Mascot

Legal for Solid-Colored Jersey

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

(NFHS and NCAA Rules allow for number to be on upper left, center or right)

May be placed on jersey:

- School name
- Team name
- Player name
- Mascot

Legal for Solid-Colored Jersey

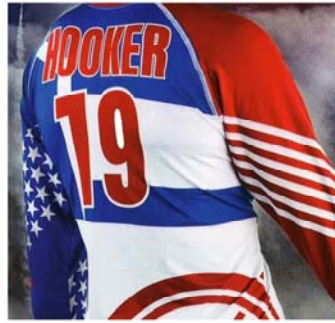

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

Team members' jersey, so what is the predominant color?

White

Can solid-colored jerseys be white?

No

- Here is an example of a uniform with a lot of color and design.
- The predominant color is white as it is at least half or more of the colors on the jersey.
- Therefore, white is not an option for the color of a solid-colored jersey.
- As a reminder, only one visible manufacturer's logo/trademark or reference can be placed on a single part of the uniform, and that logo cannot exceed 2¼ square inches.

- Here is a uniform where the front is one color and the back and shoulders are another.
- With the new rules, a predominant color is one that appears on approximately half the jersey.
- This is important because a solid-colored jersey, if worn by the libero, must be of a clear contrasting color to his/her teammates.
- Red or white could not be used as colors for the contrasting solid-colored jersey.

Solid-Colored Uniform Jersey

- All other uniform requirements as set forth in the specific rule codes of the NCAA, NFHS and USAV must be met for a uniform to be legal.
- Questions regarding uniforms should be directed to the respective organization for which the question applies.
