128
teams remaining

CHAPEL HILL -- The North Carolina High School Athletic Association released the brackets for the 2024 Football Championships on Sunday, November 10, ahead of the First Round Games on Friday, Nov. 15. This year's State Championship Games will mark the 110th season in which North Carolina has crowned a high school football state champion, dating back to Raleigh's win in 1913 (no champion in 1918). The 2024 football playoffs are the fourth iteration of the current NCHSAA Football Playoff format as the classifications were split and eight champions were crowned from 2002 to the spring of 2021 (Covid-19 year).

Games

The 2024 Championship Games will be held December 20th and 21st at Kenan Memorial Stadium on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and at Carter-Finley Stadium on the campus of North Carolina State University.

How Playoff Seeding Works

Each conference is allotted playoff berths based on the number of schools fielding a team in a particular sport:

111
Years of NC
HS Football

- 1-5 Teams = 1 Berth (Conference Champion)
- 6+ Teams = 2 Berths (Conference Champion + 2nd Place)

The highest finishing team from a given classification in a split conference will automatically qualify, regardless of overall conference finish (minimum of 2 schools per classification) RPI rating was added to the Handbook for conference tie-breaking procedure as the final tiebreaker.

The remaining non-automatic teams in each region (East/West) will fill the remaining berths based solely on their RPI rating, with the caveat that a team can only make the playoffs if all of the teams above them in the conference standings have also made the playoffs.

Conference champions are seeded before any other qualifying teams by RPI rating. All other teams are seeded after the conference champions by the RPI rating of the school, regardless of conference finish. Each region (East/West) is seeded independently of one another, utilizing the RPI rating of the school.

Championship Sites

Champions to be crowned

UNC's Kenan Memorial Stadium is the most frequent host of NCHSAA Football Championship games having hosted 81 championship games since 1989. This year's games will be the 83rd and 84th in Kenan Stadium (first in 1929). Carter-Finley will be hosting its 35th and 36th NCHSAA Championship Games this season. Wake Forest's BB&T Field (Groves) has held 25 Championship Games and Duke's Wallace Wade has played host nine times. In 1988, Groves Stadium hosted the 4A Championship, prior to that game, championships were played predominately at high school sites. From 1990-2001, all four classifications played their Championship Games at Kenan.

First-timers

The Palisades Pumas made their NCHSAA Football Playoff debut on Friday night and notched their first playoff win as they beat Page 14-3. All of the scoring took place in the fourth quarter and, up 7-3, the Pumas forced a fumble deep into Page territory, setting up a rushing touchdown for Fedayeen Turner. West Cabarrus, Willow Spring and Montgomery Central all also made their NCHSAA Football Playoff debuts on Friday night but saw their seasons come to an end.

Nail-biters

Though West Cabarrus did drop their first ever playoff game, they were one of five teams that lost by just a single point on Friday night. There were 21 games in the first round that were decided by seven points or less and 12 of those were decided by a field goal or less.

VIDEO STREAMING & TELEVISION BROADCASTS

The media rights to all NCHSAA post-season events, including playoffs and State Championships, are held by the NCHSAA. Sinclair Broadcasting Group has purchased the exclusive rights to produce and distribute the Football and Basketball State Championships. They also have the right of first refusal on any playoff contest in those two sports for their contract with the NCHSAA.

The NCHSAA also has an agreement with the NFHS Network that cedes the remaining portion of NCHSAA post-season events media rights to the NFHS Network. Per the agreement with them, they would have the following choice of games during the football and basketball playoffs after Sinclair. They have first right of refusal on all other sports during the playoffs.

Many of the 2024 NCHSAA Football Playoff Contests will be broadcast live by the NFHS Network. Network subscribers can watch NCHSAA games live and on-demand as well as playoff and championship action from other state associations across the country. Subscriptions are just $11.99/ a month. Media outlets seeking to broadcast an NCHSAA Playoff game live must submit the online Broadcast Request Form by visiting the Media section of the NCHSAA's website. All forms must be completed at least 24-hours prior to the start of the contest.
